ANNOUNCEMENTS & OPPORTUNITIES TO LIVE IN OUR FAITH

Liturgist, Josh Waterhouse

GREETING:

L: The good news of the gospel is:

P: manna in the desert, water turned into wine, love after loss, forgiveness after pain.

L: The good news of the gospel is:

P: release for the captive, hope for the hopeless, mourning turned to dancing, and strangers turned to friends.

L: So come on in. There's no time to waste! This surprising good news is here for you.

P: Let us worship this good-news God.

PRAYER FOR ILLUMINATION

Holy One, it is easy to see the mustard plant and forget to marvel at the seed. It is easy to taste good wine and not appreciate it. It is easy to miss the holy that is in our midst. So as we turn to your text today, we pray, surprise us. Speak to us. Move through us. Draw us closer to your good news. We wait with bated breath. Amen.

*SENDING FORTH

As you leave this place, when you meet anger, speak with love. When you meet fear, speak with hope. When you meet pain, speak with gentleness. But no matter what, speak this good news. For the good news of the gospel is love and justice for all. It is joy that surprises, and nonviolence that transforms. The good news of the gospel is alive in the world, so go forth speaking. For if you won't, then who will? Thanks be to God for this good, good news. Amen.

AFFIRMATION OF FAITH

I believe in the good news of Jesus Christ.

It sounds like welcome and feels like home. It sounds like laughter and feels like mercy. It sounds like love and feels like a seat at the table, so I believe in the good news of Jesus Christ.

I have seen it alive in the world.

And even when my heart aches, even when wars rage, even when mercy feels out of reach, I remember the one who welcomed the children and led with nonviolence. I remember the one who cared for the vulnerable and inspired those around him. I remember that the good news really is good news, for I have seen it alive in the world. Thanks be to God! Amen.

PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE

Joy-spreading God,

We love to imagine you at a wedding, your throat hoarse from laughter, feet tired from dancing, brow damp from the warmth of the day.

We love to imagine you turning water into wine, people passing glasses, quenching their thirst, delighting in every joy-filled, holy moment.

We love to imagine that this is how your ministry began—with celebration and joy, with banquet tables and laughter—because we crave more of those moments ourselves.

We live in a world that seems to run out of joy. The news is a rotating blur of heartache. Our hearts carry fear and grief, anxiety and loss.

We find ourselves praying for . . .

We pray for those who are caught in war-torn areas. For those who are spending their Sundays in a hospital room. For those who push through waves of depression every day, or struggle to manage illness or addiction. . .

Holy God, we live in a world that is overflowing with hard news, and we crave a piece of your joy. So on our lowest days, and in our bleakest moments, remind us that your ministry started with a small miracle. On the longest nights, remind us that we are never alone. When joy wears thin, remind us that you call us by name. When hope flickers, remind us that you hear our prayers. And when the weight of the world feels too heavy, remind us that the heart of the gospel really is good news.

Until that promised day, when we will once again find ourselves dancing until our feet are sore and gathering around the table with our neighbors, we will pray the prayer your son taught us to pray, saying . . .
